News Release 2-6-2012

The Falmouth, Yarmouth, Cumberland and Freeport Police Departments are currently investigating a series of home burglaries that have occurred over the past few weeks.

The suspect(s) are entering through unlocked doors, generally at the rear of the residences. They are stealing jewelry, electronics and money. In some cases they are knocking on the doors and if they encounter a homeowner, they ask for directions or a fictitious name to draw off attention.

Citizens are asked to call about any suspicious activity in their neighborhoods. In addition, citizens should lock their doors, alarm their homes, and stay alert to their surroundings.

This is a good time to record the serial numbers of high value "target" items in your home and take photographs of precious valuables.

Attached to this notice is a composite of one of the suspects involved in the burglaries.

If you have information, questions, or concerns, contact your local police department.
